It is time to register for the 2004 State Purchasing Forum. This year's forum will feature an expanded Contractor Trade Show and Preferred Sources Expo, as well as several training classes for local government and school district purchasing officials. Our keynote speaker, Peter Goldberg of the US Justice Department, will address criminal enforcement of anti-trust laws, a very timely topic for all levels of government, in addition an informative and entertaining presentation.

You may attend either day, all classes for local government and school purchasers are offered each day. You may elect to visit the Trade Show area only.
